All players will benefit from unique contextual, tactical and character-specific player animations. FIFA 18 had near-perfect animations and the introduction of 'HyperMotion Technology' in FIFA 22 will take this to the next level. Every movement of every player will be more precise and better defined. This is FIFA becoming the definitive destination for realistic, immersive sports action. In FIFA 22, players move with fluidity, control and a level of complexity and intensity not seen before. A goalkeeper's hands are never a normal shape and instead are modeled through a more dynamic animation system. The animations feel more natural. HyperMotion players will also benefit from a comprehensive Tactical AI which has never been so accurate before: from the movement of players on the ball, through the defensive positioning of players and defenders, to the way they organize their attacks. READY TO PLAY YOUR BEST ON SKYSOCCER HD? RUN YOUR BEST RACE ON SEGA SPORTS IDOL 4 HAVE AN IDEAL LIFT ON SOCCER STAR WHAT'S NEW IN FIFA 22 FIFA 22 includes a new 'Real Player Motion Engine' which has also been applied to the motion capture performance capture suits, which is more detailed and higher-quality than ever. The engine has been adapted for FIFA 22 to take advantage of the hyper-detailed player animation and movement we have been able to include from real-life player data. It ensures that FIFA 22 players run better and play better with each touch, using the most realistic movements possible. New in FIFA 22 is 'Dynamic Player Trajectories' - a system which dynamically adapts to each player's movement, affecting the way they dribble, pass and shoot. Players will run faster and move with more fluidity when they are not pressed, and will also react more realistically to a defender's challenge in the penalty area. Now, instead of playing football in a straight line - as many coaches would have us do - the players will change direction as they think the best way to move, which creates more variety in their movement and increases the realism of the game.
