A collection of characters from the evener, 'Home Office', of the main visual novel 'Home Office'. You'll find a bunch of interesting characters like part-timers, secretaries, teachers and whatever else that falls into that category. Just as the main visual novel also has a variety of characters, this game has you playing through the storyline. If you want to know more about the main visual novel, check out Home Office (official site) Recommendations Please make your comments on whether you recommend this game or not. This does not reflect any review by in2press, but merely the opinion by Steam Users. Monthly Deal We're having a kind of Sale the last three days of each month, where we try to get rid of all the old, overpriced games. We're calling it 'Monthly Deal', but it's the same deal every single month. All the games are under 20€, often less! But never cheaper than this. You'll find games from the last months in the gallery, too. Don't you want this? Likes We would love to have you on our team, so if you are interested, please drop us a line at We would like to hear your feedback, so please feel free to send us your comments in our Steam Community Discussion and Steam Forums. EXCLUSIVE NBC fired "Wheel of Fortune" host Pat Sajak for using his hands during a top prize game -- but an internal network investigation found he wasn't acting inappropriately... according to sources. We're told the investigators concluded Pat Sajak was just using his fingers to show letters and not his hands, but they couldn't get a clear view of the air, so they were forced to act. Our sources say the network's human resources department actually handed Pat Sajak a letter of apology and he was booted off the game and fired a few hours later. As for his on-air partner Vanna White, she's still employed./// @ref core /// @file glm/mat4x3.hpp #pragma once #include "detail/type_mat4x3.hpp" namespace glm { /// 4 columns c9d1549cdd

How to get started with the Fantasy Grounds Licence: A 5E Mini-Dungeon for 4-6 Characters of Levels 6-7 Many years ago Tibor, a wizard with an overwhelming desire for knowledge of the plane of shadow, locked himself away in a tower to pursue his studies. Shortly thereafter, his tower was consumed in a dark explosion, and the mage was assumed dead. However, assumption can never be taken as fact, and now the PCs have stumbled upon a hidden stairway where the tower once stood, leading down into the shadowy earth below. 5E Mini-Dungeons are small adventures for 5th Edition which are setting agnostic and are easily inserted anywhere in your campaign. What's new in Killing Floor: PostMortem Character Pack:

The season has started, and it's go time for most of us. Breaking into the starting XI is one of the toughest things you'll do in football, and the cut-offs for all of the teams this year aren't yet clear, especially for YA. I'm torn between Shailene Woodley (RS freshmen/RS junior) and Gemma Ward (RS junior) for the posts given their circumstances, but it's hard for me to disregard Woodley for her athleticism, fairness, and consistency. Her play in the Big Ten Championship Game in Columbus showed off the potential that she possessed for a long time. Hartley Baker (RS freshman) will probably start against Stony Brook on Saturday, but I expect Woodley to get the nod given her performance on the turf and her familiarity with the offense. In the backend, I'm still on the fence between Tayler Koulianos (RS sophomore) and Abby Blake (RS senior) for the back four, given how impressed I've been with the way they're playing. I think Koulianos had a greater jump in physicality than Blake for this last fall, but Blake looked great in the first team scrimmage given her familiarity with the bunch defense. Both will probably still be participating in the Big Ten Championship Game in Columbus, so we'll have to wait and see how it plays out. Sheatrice Atkinson (RS freshman) should claim the spot next to her. One Player to Watch: Molly Stanley

Offense I've been excited about Molly Stanley (RS/RS Jr.) for a long time now. Her drive and athleticism have made her a very unselfish player (aside from a few slips in that department) and her speed and soccer background have make her able to get on the ball quickly. This really helps her since she's a better passer (or at least thinks she is) than her numbers would indicate. But I'm not the only one who feels this way, as she's been listed among the National Women's Soccer Association's top ten rising stars for the fall. She should see work primarily in the midfield, though she could play out on the wing or through the back post. As of now, I see her becoming a fixture for Northwestern, especially during her final year with the team. I think the assumption that she's the backup centerback should be discarded. I've talked about her above, but Kallie Poppe (RS junior) is one of my top
