The "snake" theme has been around for a long time and it seems to be the most challenging genre of puzzle games. Snake games are, without a doubt, the biggest success in puzzle games, as they are easy to play, but at the same time quite difficult. This game is a reimplementation of the original snake game for your desktop. Features: - Fixed Snake, not moving around. - All the original puzzles, however, replayed. - Easy to press the Esc key to pause/go to the next level. - The Snake can rotate in order to climb up and eat a wall. - The Snake can leave the wall and go back to where it is. - The Snake must pass through every section of the map, without missing any. - The Snake can lose sight of the wall, or it can leave the Snake's head, if that happens, the Snake will have to eat an entire wall itself, and will lose 10 points for that. - The Snake can eat itself and die. - 9 different puzzle styles, from easy to hard. - 3 levels of difficulty. - Snake can die in several ways. - Rich GUI with stunning graphics. - The Snake is an egg that can move and run. - You can adjust the size of the Snake to your liking. - The Snake can grow in size, by eating a wall. - The Snake can grow at any time as the game is not paused or restarted when the Snake is getting big or small. - You can save the game at any time to quit and come back later. - You can quit the game and come back later to continue playing. The game is not available in app stores. If you install the game, it will allow you to play the game offline and you will not be able to play against others online! This is due to technical issues that are currently being taken care of on my side. What's New: * 6 New puzzles! * 2 new level of difficulty! * New versions of the wall and the snake. * 3 new levels of the game! Latest A spokesman said of this legislation that "it is important to know that Egypt's economic performance over the last two years was among the weakest in the past decade, which affected the ability of SMEs to acquire capital and become more competitive." Sections 3 and 4 of this act stipulate that the purpose of financing is to serve and protect rather than profit. (Ahram Online) The law (115/2015) introduced measures that promote the relationship between the Egyptian multinational, American multinational and Egyptian manufacturers. The Egyptian Ministry of Investment reported last week that the Egyptian multinationals and American multinationals have been awarded 595 grants. (El Keshad) The private sector should play an important role in the restructuring of the structure of the Egyptian economy, according to a committee of experts tasked by Sisi in an effort to boost the private sector's influence. "In an economy with many energy and dependency problems, economic diversification is a necessity," the report said. (El Keshad) The absence of an industry development law has prevented positive support to SMEs in Egypt and to other businesses as well, according to the grand committee. "The inability to invest in SMEs exposes various short-term and long-term negative outcomes," the report added. (El Keshad) The Young Egyptian CEO Forum welcomed the announcement to repeal licensing fees and introduce an industry development law in the new Egyptian economy. "The failure of the government to do so before al-Sisi's election has prevented SMEs from developing, which will affect the country's development," the forum said. (El Keshad) The ministry unveiled an investment promotion plan to alleviate the lack of infrastructure for SMEs by introducing a basic infrastructure for the private sector. The project will include 1,600 road developments, 120 technical tunnels and 100 projects to improve riverbeds and el-Nil waterway canal development. (El Keshad) An environment ministry report on the water level in the Mediterranean Sea has voiced concern about dwindling water resources and the lack of energy reform to mitigate the impacts of climate change. This move will have costs that will be increasingly necessary, including social and economic restructuring in the country and in the region and confronting with climate change. Categories Meta Month: May 2018 We talked about anxiety and so I'm getting out my bottle of Anx-Aid and asking that you simply say, "Yes, me too." And "Okay, I see you." We hold the anxiety together and then move on. We cannot separate the experiences of #trauma and #anxiety. They are inseparable. I could take a day off of exercise, or I could take off a day of eating a protein-rich diet, or I could take a Saturday and sleep away. But the 10,000-foot look at these things is going to be a whole lot more effective than the only-sometimes view. Sure, you can observe the effects of a single day off of exercise or a single day of anxiety. But do you realize the effect on your entire system? What about the potential of the 10,000-foot view? Do you believe in super stories? That's right. It's the idea of a story that moves us when we think about it. The super stories are the ones that are in our long-term memory. The ones that we have the most dramatic, emotional connection to. As a result of the trauma you may have suffered, you may have some memory gaps. But you may also have some super stories. These super stories are your own emotional bridges that connect your brain and your actions. You can't think without them. You can't be more successful without them. They're your emotional comfort food. Saving enough time to sit in a quiet corner and get together with the super stories. That's what we're going to do. Here's what I want to know: At what point did you realize that you could use the skills you'd practiced to become more successful? My dad. I didn't have a clue that those skills could
