Character design is based on the characters of gunmo/gunmoh's kind of gunners (truck drivers), but more stylistic. -Mission system: you can join guild online to do missions, the mission system do not include group play, you can play alone in a hard time (Team Death Match with 2 attacker and 2 defenders, you can choose the attacking and defending sides from 0-2) - Skill system: the player can level up their characters, they can increase their attack, defense, speed, fire rate, aim, and more. - Very realistic weapons: The weapons'damage is realistic, and they have different types of ammunition - The Map is not unrealistic: our goal is not to make the gameplay unrealistic, but create realistic weapons, map and systems. - Realistic death system: when a player die they can got a coffin, this coffin become unresponble and can be damaged by attack. - Voice Charts we are working to make a voice charts for each character, and making a voice list after the voice charts are ready. -Leaderboard system: we are working to make a leaderboard system, an unique and kool way to show the player are wining and loosing - Massives Death: we are working to make a Death system like gunmo/gunmoh's kind of death, when you killed by a attacker, you died. -Power-ups: we are working to make power-ups for guns, like ammo or sniper scope - Character (Player) customization: we are working to make a player customization system, you can change the all of your character's face, eyes, clothes,, weapon, skin color,etc.. - Extra items: you can unlock some extra items, in game shop, it will let you buy a lot of weapons and items with you're real money. - Other features: - Online Ranking system - Login System - Auto Save Thank you for support the game. PolyShot - Teamfight Mode - Part 2 Today we will also battle against the boys in a Teamfight. The boys team is now completely different. Now they are cuter and will try to win the match from the first teamfight. The goal is to crush the boys. PolyShot - Teamfight mode gameplay - Part 2 Hey all, it's been a while hasn't it? I see you haven't forgotten about this particular title yet. As promised earlier, here's a bunch of new gameplay video of Teamfight mode. This is a complex multiplayer battle mode for up to eight players per team. Depending on the mode, you can play as the attacking team (vs. mode) or as the defending team (dodge mode). The objective is to survive as long as possible and destroy as many of your opponent's players as you can. The scoring is done on the basis of game clock data, which is also used to determine the end of the game. All of this is displayed on the HUD and can be controlled by mouseclick (attacks) or keyboard commands (ex. spacebar - dodge). Depending on the mode, you can also use the additional functionality that is enabled on the HUD. In the video below, I've used the following mouse controls: - CTRL - Attack - SHIFT - Dodge - MOUSE1 - Melee - MOUSE2 - Disengage - MOUSE3 - Attack
AttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttackAttack For those of you wondering how to fight, here's a couple of tips: - Get used to the "Dodge" control. You can

What's new:

: A VR Experience From Obsidian Entertainment Orc Hunter VR is Obsidian's way of releasing a VR demo of their game in early access. The game's VR version is "experimental" and not "feature complete" and they are working on it. I could probably use an "orc hunter in your home" experience. But if they were working on it and were pulling it together as well as they were telling me, then I definitely think it will be worth it. Several people (including myself) were extremely skeptical about content creators releasing their games as Early Access, then taking down the content. But just because something's released in Early Access doesn't make the developer required to actually release it. It's like the differences between "alpha" and "beta". Early Access doesn't mean anything until the game is completed and out of Early Access. This is an earlier "Alpha" version. Or this is the one Obsidian Entertainment is marketing like it's an Alpha. It's a first draft from early this year. So anyways, the trailer doesn't really explain what the hell they're doing in their trailer, there's no stats on what you do or how you do it in the game, so we'll probably have to play the game for sometime to see how it's done. Either way I am excited and am going to probably buy this game once it's completed. It's actually pretty nice, just having a really simple VR experience and this let's you be as stealthy as possible. Not to mention having a bow and arrow would make it so much more realistic. I look forward to what they release next. They've got some great talent down in that area of software. Yeah, but I don't think they are showing the full game. If they are then this trailer would have been a little pointless as it's not showing anything from the main game as previous trailers have. I'm not sure if we'll get a GDC or anything for this and not get what this is supposed to be. I'm so hoping that it turns out to be the real deal. Jordan: I really enjoy the video though, it was much more exciting to see it all
