We've been married for 15 years, and are still best friends. We have two dogs, Bug and Frank (who are both very weird). This Thanksgiving, Bug and I are going to a town where our friend Frank has been adopted to a large, loving home. I'm feeling very happy about it. Frank is a very funny and loving dog, and I can't wait to see him at play with his new people. I miss him already! So, it's Thanksgiving again. I'm thankful for the kindnesses shown to me this year. I'm thankful for the fact that when I was sick, my friends made it a point to call and check on me. I was pretty sick. I took the computer out back, and typed up a little about it. It's taken me a couple of days to type it up, and it's not pretty. I'm not too proud of it. It's just a little depression I'm going through. I'm thankful for the fact that I still have my health. I really do need to lose some weight though. The pain is a problem. Even now that I've been in good health for three months, I'm still having trouble sleeping. I just wish I could sleep when I want to sleep! I'm also thankful that my parents still live about a block and a half away from me. I know I don't have to go shopping for food with my parents. I know they'll always have a place to eat.
