company Instagram is working on a feature that allows users to add faces to GIFs. Instagram will use your phone's camera to scan your face, and then you'll be able to add yourself into a GIF. If successful, this could prove beneficial for both Instagram, and for people who find it difficult to take good photos, and many people would like to see themselves added into GIFs. That is, until they realize that they're being GIF'd. Some creative people today (and some throughout history), have always used odd things like their face to make GIFs that stand out
