signs of tooth decay are and having regular dental exams. dental decay is easiest to see in the front of the mouth so kids' teeth are a bit cleaner at the front than they are in the back. if parents notice any teeth coming in, broly-nuebling said, it's best to get the teeth cleaned as soon as possible. "early detection is the best defense," she said. there are steps parents can take to better protect their kids' teeth and avoid cavities. they include: brushing their teeth twice a day after meals and before bed. the ada recommends that kids brush for 2 minutes each time. brushing for 20 seconds at least twice a day with toothpaste that contains fluoride. using a soft-bristled brush and cleaning a circular motion. don't let kids go to sleep with a bottle of sugary drinks. it is also important to avoid allowing little ones to snack on high-sugar, low-nutrient foods, like cookies or donuts, that are easy to eat and are more likely to lead to tooth decay. not allowing kids to eat too much of any kind of candy, including hard candies, because sugar can weaken a tooth's enamel and eventually cause cavities. for those with insurance, it is important to request a yearly dental exam. for those without insurance, the cdc says the best way to prevent cavities is to rinse with a fluoridated toothpaste for one minute twice daily. the cdc says making other changes to your mouth also can help prevent tooth decay.

consider:[psychological symptoms in pregnant women: relationship with quality of maternal-child relationship]. the relationship between psychological symptoms during pregnancy and maternal characteristics and quality of parent-child relationship was examined. two groups were formed: n=408, 33.7% of them had psychological symptoms and n=1047, 66.3% did not. the following factors were more frequently significant in the group with psychological symptoms than in the group without psychological symptoms: body mass index, emotionality, neuroticism, depression, anxiety, temperament, extraversion, and relationship and "lifestyle" subscales of the state-trait anxiety inventory. 5ec8ef588b
